REPUBLICAN DOCTRINE SPREAD TO ALL PARTS OF RUSH COUNTY

Campaign is Carried Into Every Community Today by Tour of All The Towns

OVER 200 CARS IN CARAVAN

Size of Cavalcade Grows as it Proceeds, a Section up Each Side Of The County

BOTH JOIN AT CARTHAGE

Climax Will Come Tonight With Meeting at Coliseum to be Preceded by a Parade

Republican doctrine was spread to the four corners of Rush county today by a dozen speakers and a crowd of one thousand people which visited practically every community.

The occasion was the regular campaign tour which began with a meeting at Milroy shortly after nine o'clock and was to close with an immense rally at Carthage about three o'clock this afternoon. Word from both divisions of the tour this afternoon was that there would be more than two hundred automobiles pull into Carthage for the final meeting.

The speakers with the western division were Tom Davison and Mrs. Marguerite Grouleff of Greensburg, W. D. Bynum of Indianapolis and Congressman R. N. Elliott of Connersville. With the eastern division were Rollin Turner of Greensburg, George Barnard of Newcastle, Miss Mary Sleeth of this city and Representative W. R. Jinnett of Manilla.

The real finale of the tour will be a meeting at the coliseum tonight when George Barnard and Rollin Turner will speak, and some women speakers will also be on the program. There will be a parade to the coliseum tonight, leaving the court house square at 7:30.

Republicans are making great arrangements for a meeting here Friday night at the court room when John McCordle, member of the public service commission of Indiana, will speak at 7:30. The news that Senator Watson will close the campaign here next Monday afternoon was greeted with applause at every place where it was announced on the tour today and indications are that this will be the largest republican turnout here in many years.

Approximately one hundred machines left Rushville this morning for Milroy where the first meeting of the tour was held. There was a large crowd out to welcome the visitors and many Milroy people joined the cavalcade there.

At the Milroy meeting Cong. Elliott referred to the assertions of democrats regarding their part in passing woman's suffrage, but he pointed out that the 65th congress, which was overwhelmingly democratic, refused to endorse the amendment, and the next congress, which was republican, passed the 19th amendment in 15 days after it convened. He also recalled 29 republican states ratified the amendment as compared with the favorable vote of 7 democratic states.

"The amendment is now a part of the constitution," he said, "where it should have been 133 years ago when that immortal document was adopted."

"It is difficult to make a speech in this campaign in such a short space of time," the congressman said. "A speech should be very much like a woman's skirt—long enough to cover the subject but short enough to be interesting."

"This is the most important campaign since the civil war. The period of reconstruction is before us and the period of destruction is behind us. It behooves the people to put in power a party which by its past record has shown that it is capable of dealing with the situation."

"Article ten means we protect the territorial integrity of other members of the league of nations, if we join," said Rep. Elliott "or it means

EARLY EVENING FIRE CAUSES SERIOUS LOSS

Household Goods Are Damaged at Residence of James Hobbs, 313 East Eighth Street

FIRE'S ORIGIN IS DOUBTFUL

Fire caused considerable damage last night to the household goods at the home of James Hobbs, 313 East Eighth street, when a fire of unknown origin spread quickly throughout the interior of the house while the family was away, and what damage resulted was caused more from water and smoke than from the flames.

The fire was discovered shortly after seven o'clock by a neighbor, and when the fire department arrived the flames were raging in four rooms, and looked as if it had started from a closet near the center of the house. A carpet sweeper was thought to have been the cause of the fire, as it might have contained a match. A gas jet also was said to be burning and might have caused the fire.

The residence is owned by J. Miller Ogden, who also occupies a few rooms in the house. He carried $800 insurance on the dwelling and the loss was about equally proportioned. Mr. Hobbs carried $500 insurance and his loss will be fully covered.

W. H. Moffett, stician for the fire department, placed the total loss at $600, of which $350 was to the building and $250 to the contents.

RUSH COUNTY GOAL IS SET AT 5,000

Local Chapter of Red Cross Will be Called on to Reach That Membership in Roll Call

CAMPAIGN NOV. 11 TO 25

Red Cross Sunday Will be Observed by Church in Lake Division on November 14

The Rush county chapter of the American Red Cross will seek a membership of 5,000 in the Fourth Red Cross Roll Call, November 11 to 25. This quota has been fixed by H. B. Dickson, Roll Call manager for Lake Division.

Chapter quotas have been set with the view of enrolling 1,500,000 members in Lake Division—Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

Plans for achieving this goal were completed at conferences of chapter Roll Call directors of the three states at Indianapolis, Louisville and Columbus.

"Let every good American citizen become a member of the Red Cross" is the message of Herbert Hoover, whose relief work abroad during the war brought him into close association with the American Red Cross.

The stupendous foreign and domestic task before the Red Cross in its peace program is one that deserves the support of the American people, he points out in urging a large enrollment.

Churches throughout Lake Division have begun plans for the observance of Red Cross Sunday, November 14. From the pulpits of the three states the cause of the Red Cross will be impressed upon many audiences and its vast peace program explained.

"The Red Cross of Peace," the pageant written especially for Lake Division, also will be presented at churches on Red Cross Sunday.

REVIVAL IS IN PROGRESS

The revival meeting being conducted at the Gowdy M. E. church is progressing nicely, and will continue for the remainder of this week. The attendance Sunday was reported to be unusually large, as the church auditorium was filled and will accommodate a big attendance. The meetings are being held by the Rev. M. E. Abel, pastor of the Manilla M. E. church.

ABSENTEE'S VOTE IS CAST SECRETLY

Ballot is Not Unfolded by Inspector or Members of The Board After Put in Envelope

CLERKS WRITE INITIALS

Law Provides That Such Ballots Must Not Bear Any Marks to Cause a Distinction

Contrary to the belief of many voters, ballots which are cast by absentees are protected with the same degree of secrecy that surrounds ballots cast by voters in person. The Indiana election law is very explicit in describing the manner in which ballots of absent voters must be handled and it is the evident purpose of these provisions to insure the absentee that his vote will be kept secret.

Inquiries have been made during the last few days as to whether or not the members of the board may examine a ballot cast by an absent voter. The law is very clear on this point and provides that the ballot shall not be unfolded. A heavy penalty is provided for violation of the provision.

The ballots of the absent voters are mailed or delivered to the county clerk who is required by law to turn them over to the inspector at the time the ballots and supplies are distributed or at such other time as they may be received by the county clerk. The ballots of absentees are folded and sealed in a specially designed envelope and this is placed within another or carrier envelope. The inspector in the presence of the entire board, is required during the progress of the election to tear open the outer or carrier envelope and from the record on the inside envelope ascertain if the voter is duly qualified to participate in the election.

If the voter has registered and has met all other qualifications for voting, the inspector is required to open the second envelope in such manner as to preserve all the record contained thereon and remove the ballot without unfolding or permitting it to be unfolded. He then hands it to the polling clerk who shall write their initials in the lower left hand corner the same as they endorse all other ballots. The ballot is then placed in the ballot box with other ballots which are cast during the day.

In counties where voting machines are used the ballots of absentees are handled in exactly the same manner except before the polls close they are removed from the ballot box and in the presence of the members of the board are voted on the machines. However, the same degree of care is used to prevent any member of the board from ascertaining how any absentee voted.

Some voters have expressed the belief that fraudulent voting may be conducted if an unscrupulous person secured possession of an official ballot upon application of an absent voter. It was contended that the ballot might be voted early in the morning and that the voter could bring a blank ballot from the polls. This could be marked and sent in by another person who would return a blank ballot. In this way an endless chain might be conducted until the polls closed. This is practically impossible, however, as the ballot cast by an absent voter is not legal until it bears the initials of the polling clerks and these are not written until just before the ballot is placed in the box. A heavy penalty is provided for using an absent voter's ballot for the purpose of defrauding the election and it is not likely that any one would care to run risk of attempting to forge the clerk's initials.

STOUT RELEASED FROM JAIL ONE MORE TIME

Man Who Figured in Bad Check Deal, Mortgaged Automobile and a Stolen Car Pays All Costs

IT COST HIM ABOUT $100

Arch Stout, who came into the limelight a few weeks ago when he pleaded guilty to a charge of issuing a fraudulent check, and more recently was arrested on a charge of removing a mortgaged automobile from the county, is again at liberty, having been released from jail, when the matter was settled financially between all parties concerned.

Following Stout's arrest for giving T. W. Lytle a bad check for $3.00, he was unable to make the check good, or pay the costs in the case, so he mortgaged an automobile which he said was his property. The mortgage was for $25. He then violated the state law and took the machine out of Rush county and was again arrested in Jennings county and brought here to answer to that charge.

In the meantime, it developed that the automobile was a stolen car from the Davis Sales Company of Richmond and they came here last Friday and took the car back to that city, leaving the local company, who had financed Stout, without any means of recovering their $25. Stout's father, who lives in Jennings county came here last night and paid off the $25, and the costs which had accumulated in the case, amounting almost to $100. It cost $35 to recover the machine from Jennings county. Stout was then released from jail.

Will Entertain Union District Medical Association at 106th Semi-Annual Session

DR. J. C. SEXTON PRESIDENT

Meetings Will be Held Thursday in Court House Assembly Room, With Banquet at Noon

Rushville physicians will entertain the members of the Union District Medical association in this city Thursday in the assembly room of the court house, and an interesting program has been prepared for the occasion. The association is probably the oldest organization of its kind in existence, as the meeting here will be the 106th semi-annual gathering, or the 53rd year.

Many notable physicians and surgeons will appear for lectures and discussions, and the meeting will exceed the district convention which met here last spring when over 50 physicians from eastern Indiana came here.

The meeting will convene at 10:30 in the morning with an address by Dr. J. N. Study, a prominent surgeon of Cambridge City. Dr. J. C. Sexton of this city is president of the association.

One of the features will be a banquet at one o'clock at the Windsor hotel, and following the dinner, the meeting will be resumed at the court house, with a discussion as the closing number. Dr. Frank H. Green of this city and Dr. E. H. Smith of Newcastle will take part in the discussion.

The entire program is as follows:

1. "The Union District Medical Association and Some Things in Medicine Occurring in Half Century," J. N. Study, Cambridge City, Ind.

PLACES BUSINESS BEFORE POLITICS

Thomas Taggart Aspires to be Senator, Pointing With Pride to His Business Career

STRONG FOR THE LEAGUE

Points Out Extravagant Waste of His Own Party and Says it is Poor Business

Thomas Taggart, democratic candidate for United States Senator, and opponent of Senator Watson, spoke here last night to a large crowd in the coliseum, and directed his appeal on the grounds that the state should be represented by a business man, one who had been engaged in business his entire life, and intimated that politics were far from his line.

The crowd was fully 2,500 people, and was composed of one half republicans, who went to the coliseum out of curiosity to see and hear the opponent of Senator Watson. The occasional cheering gave evidence to the fact that the mass of people was not wholly composed of democrats.

After being introduced to the audience, Mr. Taggart remarked that, "I have the kindest regards for my opponent, Senator Watson, and your townsman, and I wish him success and luck in all of his achievements—except his present aspirations."

Mr. Taggart praised the last two democratic administrations as "being 7½ years of a wonderful administration and headed by a man equally as great and important—Woodrow Wilson." Mr. Taggart criticized the Republican party for taking the League of Nations into politics and urged everyone to secure a copy and read it for themselves.

He spoke further about the extravagances and acknowledged the appropriations made by the Democratic Senate when he was serving as a Senator from this state, filling out the unexpired term of the late Senator Shively.

He quoted several appropriations which he investigated and asserted that they were made purely to pass the slush fund around and to give the senators a slice of the pork barrel in order to make their re-election more certain.

The Democratic Senate, according to his investigations, appropriated $125,000, for the use of killing mountain lions and coyotes in the state of Montana. He said that during the year previous to his investigation, the government paid that amount to 24 men in Montana, who killed only 17 mountain lions and two coyotes.

He cited further appropriations, and in conclusion acknowledged that these were made when the Senate was Democratic, but that he personally was against any such appropriations, as it was not business like to spend money for such purposes.

He also touched upon the alleged war extravagances made by the Republican party. He said in part, "They may tell you about the horses, saddles, bridles, halters, automobiles, airplanes and other so called extravagance, but I would rather have had it that way, than to have been one shell short, when the final round of fighting came."

Mr. Taggart also talked about the tax law and criticized the Republican party in this state for upholding the Goodrich administration. He also praised the administration in Washington for their many "notable acts in the establishing the Federal Reserve system, the Child Labor law, and the Farm Loan act."

Mr. Taggart was preceded by a short talk by Will Yarling of Shelbyville, democratic candidate for congress from this district. Following Mr. Taggart's address, he left for a speech in Connersville, and Dick Miller held the platform for over an hour, talking about state and national affairs.

DEMOCRATS FORM HARDING LEAGUE IN NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK CITY.—(Special)—Organization of the Harding Democratic League, composed of Democrats who will support Harding for the presidency was announced here by Rhineland Waldo. The league has a membership in all parts of the country and has opened headquarters in this city. The principal planks in the organization's platform are:

We are for America first. We want patriotism before partisanship. We want no league of nations with its trail of war-producing alliances. We are against European entanglements. We are not only voters, but active enthusiastic workers for Harding.

Let's Go to Durham.

In the county of Durham, England, it is an old custom to give fruit cake and cheese to the first person met on the way to the church by a christening party.

THE RANGE BEAUTIFUL

The strikingly beautiful outlines of the Copper-Clad Range stops every woman. As she looks and admires, she finds that it is true beauty—the beauty of simple elegance and perfect proportions—of fine finish—the thoroughbred of the Range World.

Look for hinges on the above—only two on the oven door and they are long and smooth. There are six other doors yet not a hinge in sight, not a catch, nor hook nor latch. Built like fine automobiles, the hinges are all inside.

Come—See the Asbestos Sweat

COPPER-CLAD WEEK This Week, Oct. 25 to 30

No matter whether you want a range now or next year or any other time, it will pay you to come and see the Copper-Clad Crank make the Asbestos Sweat.

He takes any piece of Asbestos, puts it between two iron plates—heats it—and shows you the sweat. You can roll it up in drops with your finger.

Every good range must be lined with asbestos to cage and hold the heat around the oven and keep down fuel cost. Every time the range cools off, the asbestos takes moisture out of the fresh air circulating through the range like a blotter takes up water. When you fire up, this moisture is driven by the heat to the outside against the cold range body and starts Sweat-Rust on the inside where you can get at it even though you know it rusts. Sweat-Rust ruins thousand and thousands of otherwise good ranges every year. When the body is gone, the range is done for.

The Copper-Clad Idea Is "Pure Sheet Copper Between the Asbestos and Range Body"

Copper never rusts. It may tarnish but it will last centuries. There are Copper Domes that have been defying the elements for hundreds of years. So, when we say a "Copper-Clad can't rust out," we mean that the copper lining overcomes all internal rust. Your greasy rag will keep outside free of rust—and there are no fussy ornaments full of rivets and bolts to skin your hands. The Copper-Clad wipes clean like a dish.

If these things are so—you should know it. Not by hearsay—but by the evidence of your own eyes. Remember, this Copper-Clad Crank is here to tell—to show—to explain. He delights in it. You won't "bother" him by asking questions. He has oodles of time to answer and he is here to "Show You."

WANT 250 MEN FOR ARMY BALLOONISTS

Uncle Sam Looking For Young Men With High School Education Wanting Exciting Profession

WILL BE PAID $75 A MONTH

Course Open to Applicants Who Can Pass Regular Army Physical Examination Required

Uncle Sam is looking about for 250 young men with a high school education who would like to learn the exciting profession of Army balloonist, and eventually become balloon and airship reserve officers. They will be paid $75 a month while learning, and receive a ration allowance of $1 a day, together with quarters, all clothing and equipment, and free medical and dental treatment. The course is open to unmarried applicants possessing a high school education, or its equivalent, who can pass the Regular Army physical examination and the physical tests required of flying officers.

Successful candidates enter as cadets and will be sent at once to the Air Service school for training as balloon observers at Ross Field, Los Angeles, California. There each young man takes a 10-months' course in balloon observation under ideal conditions. He is taught how to handle his craft in all its phases and to make observations, and he eventually qualifies as a free balloon pilot.

When the cadet is rated as a balloon observer he goes to Fort Sill, Oklahoma, to receive his artillery training. Upon completion of this course, the student is commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Service Reserve Corps. Then he has the alternative of discharge or continuation in service as an enlisted man. There is also opportunity for him to take the examination for a lieutenancy in the Regular Army. If a cadet cannot finish his course successfully, he will be discharged and not retrained in the Army against his will.

Major General P. C. Harris, the adjutant general of the army says:

"This training opens up an entirely new range of experience to the young man, and lays the foundation for qualification as a dirigible balloon pilot, a new field of almost limitless possibilities. Commercial transportation by airship is an accomplished fact in America, and according to present plans, next year will see it in actual operation in this country on a large scale. Today the only opportunity for such training is either in the Army or in the Navy; in fact, the lack of qualified personnel is one of the serious drawbacks to present commercial plans for airship transportation lines.

Army recruiting officers throughout the United States have been notified to furnish full particulars to all young men who are interested in becoming balloonists under these new conditions.

BIG FOOD PROBLEM BEFORE GERMANY

Nation Must Take Strictest Measures to Meet its Problems, According to Prof. Von Gruber

TREATY ROBS FOOD SUPPLY

Berlin, Oct. 7 (By Mail)—Millions of Germans can die for want of food, as against thousands during the blockade, unless the nation takes the strictest measures to meet its food problems, according to Prof. von Gruber of Munich, speaking before the Scientific Congress at Ban Nauheim.

He contended that the Versailles treaty had robbed Germany of vital supply sources and that many were consequently condemned to death. He counselled intensive production, greater application of fertilizers and as moderate consumption as possible.

The idea that Germany could lean on foreign lands for large food supplies, as it has recently done, is deceptive, he said. This system, he pointed out, must come to an end some time, due to the inability of

The Futility of Cox's Campaign

Gov. Cox knows that even if he is elected the Wilson league cannot be ratified, because sufficient senators who voted against it last spring will remain in the senate in the next congress to insure its defeat. Yet with the knowledge the democratic candidate insists on the Wilson league or nothing. There has not come from him a single suggestion of what he would do looking to an international understanding for peace after he has submitted the league to the senate of the 67th congress and seen it again rejected. Presumably he will continue to butt his head against the stonewall of senate opposition in seeking the impossible. Mr. Cox knows and everybody else knows that his stand is a stand against any move for international peace. The Wilson plan will be defeated and he will attempt no other.

Senator Harding favors an association of nations to discourage or prevent war, the plan to be worked out calmly after the United States has returned to peaceful relations with the rest of the world. Even if he were inclined to do so, Senator Harding knows that he could not force the Wilson league upon the senate of the next congress. But he stands ready to collaborate with the rest of the world. Even if he were inclined to do so, Senator Harding knows that he could not force the Wilson league upon the senate of the next congress. But he stands ready to collaborate with the other leading statesmen of his party in the perfection of an understanding with foreign nations whereby future wars may be avoided.

If those who advocate the entrance of the United States into the league of nations as a means for achieving world peace would but stop a moment and candidly reflect they would perceive that the only hope of world peace through the aid and support of the United States lies in the election of Senator Harding. Through him constructive steps towards that much desired end will be taken. Through Gov. Cox, if elected, nothing would be done.

Let the Women do it

In this country there are large numbers of men who are too lazy, or indifferent, or too greedy in the accumulation of wealth to go to the polls and vote—to pay the debt they owe to their country.

They think they are good citizens but many other people think they are not.

Women have always forged to the front in all good work, and unquestionably they will take up their newly acquired burdens of citizenship as rapidly as they can adjust themselves to their new station in political life.

Will they lead in the voting of the future?

Will they put the stay-at-home man to shame?

We have faith in the willingness of all good women to do that which is for the best.

Voting is a sacred duty.

Women are not shirkers.

Men sometimes are.

Once more the shipping board has rejected all bids received for the remaining 285 ships of its wooden fleet. Scores of them are now anchored side by side in the James River slowly rotting at their chains. No one ever made a voyage across the Atlantic. Yet in the spring of 1917 two of the most vital months of the war were frittered away while the president permitted his political henchmen at the head of the shipping board to hold up recommendations of experienced shipping men while he stubbornly insisted on his wooden ship program.

The democrats are claiming Indiana now and a few months ago candidates could not be drafted to run on the state ticket. It's queer what a change there is in a man's viewpoint when he becomes a candidate.

Gov. Cox is predicting a period of depression if the league of nations and the peace treaty are not ratified by the United States, which is another indication of how desperate he has grown.

The Ohio governor continues to predict his own election while the straw votes over the country show the trend to Senator Harding unabated.

The people made up their minds many months ago they had enough of the democratic party and they are going to turn it out November 2.

Mr. Root's Indictment
(New York Herald)

Mr. Root's speech in Carnegie Hall did something to clear up the issue between President Wilson and Senator Spencer. This incident has been declared closed, so far as the White House is concerned, but by the people it will not be regarded as closed until Mr. Spencer gets the apology that is due, and overdue.

To the examination and comparison of the several published versions of President Wilson's unwarranted assurances to Rumania and Serbia at the Peace Conference on May 31, 1919. Mr. Root devoted the analytic powers of a great legal intellect. The attention he bestowed upon this question of meaning was properly given, for the significance of Article X, from the President's point of view, is involved in his interpretation of the same for the benefit of the representatives of the little nations, and he himself has declared that Article X is the heart of the covenant, and that its undertakings would constitute on the part of the United States "an absolutely compelling moral obligation."

"Unquestionably," said Mr. Root of Article X, "that is an agreement to go to war in case external aggression against any member of the League be of such a character that war is necessary to repel it". Now, there were two stenographic versions of Mr. Wilson's remarks when in reply to the protests of Mr. Bratiano and Mr. Trumbitch he was arguing with his accustomed glibness that Rumania and Serbia ought to be satisfied with alien supervision of some of their domestic affairs because their territory and independence were guaranteed by the military force of the great Powers.

Mr. Root brushes aside the pretence of Mr. Tumulty and his principal that the version given out by the White House is the official version. The official record was in French, and from one of the slightly varying translations, printed nearly a year ago in the Congressional Record, "apparently without any question as to its authenticity," then or since, Senator Spencer quoted the passage which Mr. Tumulty and afterward President Wilson denounced as a fabrication.

The other and somewhat different version, which the White House would be glad to see accepted as the official version, but which is not official in any respect, was produced by an American stenographer in Mr. Wilson's train and furnished to Mr. Tumulty when the issue with Senator Spencer became acute.

We review these circumstances merely to introduce Mr. Elihu Root's conclusion:

"There has been much discussion upon the differences between these two reports. Whatever the difference may be there is no difference between them in respect of the proposition which I am now making: that the President urged these small Powers to accept limitations upon their sovereignty because they were guaranteed by the armed force of the great Powers."

And again:

"Upon both these reports it is perfectly plain that the consideration upon which Rumania and Serbia were urged to consent to a limitation of their sovereignty was a guarantee of that sovereignty by the United States with the justified understanding that the guarantee (if need be) would be made good by sending armies and fleets across the sea. The guarantee was contained in Article X, and that is what Article means."

CANDIDATES DID NOT DODGE ISSUES

Answer Questionnaires Sent Out by Indiana Federation of Farmers' Associations

THREE BILLS IN QUESTION

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 26.—In response to the questionnaires sent out by the Indiana Federation of Farmers' Associations to all of the candidates for congress seeking information as to how they stood on legislation important to the producers pending at Washington, practically all of the nominees sent in definite replies as to their respective positions without dodging the issues. The candidates were asked for an expression as to how they would cast their votes on the Nolan Bill, the French Truth-In-Fabric Bill and the Capper-Volstead Bill which is designed to remove all doubt as to the legal right of agricultural producers to market their products in a co-operative manner.

The information gathered from the thirteen Congressional districts is being compiled in mimeograph form and is to be sent to the president of each county organization for distribution among the farmers. In this way the producers will have the opportunity of knowing the exact attitude of their future representative in Congress on three of the most important measures having a close relation to the farming industry.

VALLEY MILLS TEAM TO MEET R.H.S. FRIDAY

Strong Marion County Basketball Team Will Make First Appearance Against Locals

LOCALS CONFIDENT OF A WIN

A good basketball game is promised the fans here Friday night when the Rushville high school team will meet the Valley Mills high school, and a stiff game is expected. Although the exact strength of the visitors is not known, Coach Sutton will start the game with his usual strong lineup, which he expects to hold the visitors.

Valley Mills was a runner up last spring in the district tournament held at Indianapolis, and it will be the first appearance of this team in this city. Last Friday night the Morristown quintet defeated them on the floor at Morristown by the narrow margin of two points, the final score being 24 to 22. Little is known this year of the strength of the Morristown team.

The game will be preceded by a curtain raiser, but these opening teams have not been definitely decided upon.

Capt. Miller announced today that in all probability the team Friday will present the strongest lineup of the season, as Lowell Headlee will be able to take his position at forward the first time this season.

Elsie Ferguson Again Tonight

The versatility of Elsie Ferguson, the charming star in leading Paramount pictures, is splendidly displayed in "Lady Rose's Daughter", her latest photoplay which comes to the Princess theatre for the last showing today. Miss Ferguson plays three powerful parts in this picture and her artistry is conspicuously evidenced in each characterization.

The story of Mrs. Humphrey Ward's dramatic novel is divided into three epochs, those of 1860, 1890 and 1920. In the first epoch, Miss Ferguson is seen as Lady Maude a woman of high social station in England. In the second, she is Lady Maude; while in the present day epoch, she has the role of Juliet Le Breton, the illegitimate daughter of Lady Rose.

The three parts are entirely different in conception and treatment but in this splendidly photoplay, Miss Ferguson portrays each with her usual artistry and dramatic effectiveness. As the daughter born out of wedlock, she endures much suffering, but after her love affair with a rascally army officer reaches its climax, she finds happiness in the love of a worthy man.

The photoplay has been finely produced and the support headed by David Powell, Holmes E. Herbert, Frank Losee, Ida Waterman and

A Feature at The Mystic

Much of the comedy in "The Unpardonable Sin" for there is comedy a-plenty in addition to pathos in this extraordinary Harry Garson production—is provided by two able little screen actors, who will be particularly welcomed everywhere by members of the Boy Scouts of America. One of the youngsters plays the part of a member of the Belgian organization of the Boy Scouts and the other announces to his chance acquaintance that he is an American Boy Scout, hailing from a little town in Kansas. The two youngsters match their wits, against those of adults in the cause of Humanity, and get results which, in some instances, are amusing as they are gratifying. Bobby Connolly, well known to picture patrons the country over, because of past performances, plays the part of the Belgian youngsters and Wesley Barry, a comparative newcomer in big photoplay productions, does remarkable work as the ragged little American who ran into so many difficulties when a terrible tragedy left him friendless and alone in Europe.

"The Unpardonable Sin" will be shown for the last time at the Mystic theatre, today.

INVITE EMBROIDERY

If it were not for the vogue for embroidery the story of many one-piece frocks would be as simple as a nursery rhyme—long, almost unbroken lines—make them graceful, but this lack of drapery invites decoration; which is one way of saying that there are many lovely embroidered dresses among recent offerings. But, however many, none will have more to commend it than the handsome model shown here. Notice—it has the long waist line, flaring sleeve and broad silk sash which are delightful contributions of the new season.

A number of machines had gathered at Moscow, waiting to join the tour, when the western division reached there. W. D. Bynum made his first speech there, forecasting that Marion county would roll up a majority of 12,000 for Harding and Watson.

"We do not believe in hampering the president," he said, "and we are going to return Senator Watson to the senate."

He asserted the only thing Taggart ever did while serving an unexpired term in the senate was to take a dog into the senate with him. The speaker cited many examples of criminal waste in the conduct of the war, declaring the democrats were avoiding it in the campaign because there was too much dynamite in it for them.

"If we had been in the league," he asserted, "we would have been called on to support Poland. The republicans want an association or agreement based on justice, not force."

Mrs. Grouleff and Rep. Elliott also spoke briefly at Moscow.

The western division had grown to sixty machines when it reached Gowdy where an enthusiastic meeting was held at the cross roads, Mr. Davison standing in the center of a large circle.

"We know where Cox is because he said he was in complete accord with Wilson and we know where Wilson stood," he said. "Therefore Cox's position on the league of nations is identically like that of Wilson's. It is a question whether we want to cling to the constitution or go to Europe for our government."

The speaker said Wilson did not have much confidence in his own party or he would have wagered more than $500 (his campaign contribution) on the success of Cox. After that, in their efforts to raise money, the campaign slogan was "match the president," said Mr. Davison.

"But you couldn't match him in five million," he continued.

"There has been much quoting of the scripture," the speaker declared, "especially by those who know nothing about it. Tom Taggart said the league was as sacred as holy writ, but if he knows no more about it than holy writ, his head is mighty empty regarding the league."

"If you people favor the kind of statesmanship that springs from Pluto, the emblem of which is Satan, and a French Liek hotel, then vote for Tom Taggart," he continued. "If you want true statesmanship—the kind which will serve its constituents, and has the ability and intelligence to serve, then vote for James E. Watson."

The Clarksburg, Arlington and Odd Fellows band of this city and drum corps composed of colored boys from Carthage, went on the tour, going in advance of the speakers and gathering a crowd. A glee club composed of the Misses Lillian Priest, Roberta Muire, and Magdaline Arbuckle and Horace Pearsey, O. P. Wamsley, Orlestus Grunden, Ivan Edlin and John Davis, sang at Milroy and accompanied the campaigners, with the western division.

Beauty Chats

"WILL you kindly print directions for bran or oatmeal baths, or other baths for improving the texture of the skin?" writes a correspondent. In the same mail came a request for baths to help a rheumatoid old lady.

So, since our space is brief, I think I will make a list of the various beauty and medicinal baths, with short directions for taking each kind.

There is, first, the oatmeal bath—essentially a bath for beauty. It whitens the skin, makes it wonderfully soft, and acts as a mild bleach. Take about four cupfuls of uncooked oatmeal, put in a muslin bag, and put the bag in the bath water, if possible, letting the water from the faucets run over the bag. Squeeze it before getting into the bath, so the water becomes milky looking. One bagful can be used four or five times.

Bran baths are taken the same way except that bran is used in place of the oatmeal. Many women use small bags of oatmeal or bran, in place of the wash cloth, rubbing the meal over the skin.

The best bath for rheumatism is Epsom salt bath. This requires about half a pound of the salts dissolved in the bathtub; the patient lies flat on the tub, with just enough water to cover the body, and soaks there until the heat has left the water.

Sulphur baths are beneficial to health also, and are beautifiers, well. Many a sanitarium has made its reputation upon them—and they may be taken at home, if one has time and patience. In the simplest form, they consist of dissolving a few of sulphur in the hot bath water, adding some bicarbonate of soda, so as you use in making up sour milk. Sanitariums usually add a few more such ingredients and mix with mud, applying this medicated mud to the skin.

Farmers Have Subscribed for Stock
For Grain Elevators

The community farmers of Walker and Orange townships and several townships in Shelby county, had a meeting again last night in Manilla, where it was definitely decided upon to buy the grain elevators at Rays Crossing and Manilla. The project was launched a few days ago, and committees were then appointed to solicit for stock. The committees last night reported enough stock already subscribed in their localities, that will definitely assure the buying of the two elevators. No officers have yet been elected, but after the deal has been closed, officers and the management will be decided upon. The proposition is to create a community owned elevator in these two places. The Township Farmer's organization should not be confused with this project.

CONGRESS PLAYS IMPORTANT PART

Election Will Decide Upon Future Personnel of The Important Congressional Committees

THEY ARE 17 IN NUMBER

If Democrats Win it Will Mean a Continuation of Wilsonian Policy in all Branches

Washington, Oct. 26—Citizens who will choose in the November election whether they want a Democrat or a Republican elected in the next Congress in their districts should understand just what a Democratic congress will mean, particularly in the personnel of the committee chairmanships.

If a Democratic House is elected in November it means that chairmanships of all the great and important committees, 17 in number, will be headed by Democrats, all from the South, instead of Republicans from every section of the country. Every important Republican chairman will be supplanted by a Democrat. Five Southern States in 1916 cast less votes than the single States of Illinois.

If a Democratic Congress is elected in November Champ Clark of Missouri, or Claude Kitchin of North Carolina, will be Speaker, instead of the scholarly Gillett. Gillett worked in Congress like a Trojan for the success of the United States in the World War. Clark and Kitchin opposed war measures and particularly the draft law. Clark stated on the House floor that a conscript was no better than a convict. Do the people want a Speaker like Clark or Kitchin?

The American Navy will soon be and must be, the most powerful in the world. The Republican chairman of the House Naval Affairs Committee is Representative Butler, of Pa., an ardent advocate of an adequate navy. If the next Congress is Democratic the chairman of Naval Affairs will be Representative Padgett, of Tenn., a Southerner who believes in a "little navy" policy, and showed it when he was chairman before. Should the "First line of Defense" be entrusted to a Padgett?

If the next House is Democratic Kitchin if not Speaker will be chairman of the immensely powerful Ways and Means Committee. The Ways and Means Committee drafts the taxation and tariff bills. Do the people want Kitchin, from the "Solid South", manager of that? When the Democrats have been in control of Congress they invariably favored in taxation and tariff matters their own section, to the detriment of the remainder of the country. If the next Congress is Democratic one Southern State—Tennessee—will supply the chairman for Appropriations, Navy, Post Office and Post Roads, and Insular Affairs.

If the November elections return a Democratic Congress the great House Military Affairs Committee will be headed by a democrat, instead of Representative Kahn, Republican of California, the man who put through the draft bill in the House in the War Congress when the then chairman of the Military Committee, Democratic Representative Dent actually brought in a report against that bill. The people of Alabama in the last primaries repudiated Dent. But some other democrat just as much a pacifist as Dent would become chairman of the Military Affairs Committee. The Army saved the Republican in the World War. There may be other wars. Do the people want a strong patriot like Kahn to remain as chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, or some Democrat, who may be a pacifist like Dent?

In the 65th Congress, which was Democratic, the following chairmen of important committees obstructed the war: Clark, Fla., Johnson Ky., Moon, Tenn., Pou, North Carolina; Small, North Carolina. Every one of them voted against the draft bill. This was a fair enough warning to all patriotic Americans about leaving Democrats in control of Congress in a great National crisis.

In the 65th Congress out of 61 committees, 41 had Southern democrats as chairmen. The South was indeed in the "saddle". In that Congress Mr. Wilson was pictured as looking across the Potomac, from the portico of the White House, and as he regarded the blue Virginia Hills, was reported to exclaim: "There lies my country".

If the Senate is Democratic in the next Congress the very important Appropriations Committee, will be headed by Senator Overman, of North Carolina, another Bourbon from the "Solid South". He would replace Senator Warren, of Wyoming, a hero of the Union Army of the Civil War.

The powerful Finance Committee would be headed by Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, another Bourbon Southerner, instead of Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania.

Foreign Relations would have as its chief, not the able and patriotic Lodge, of Mass., but Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska. Mr. Lodge by his reservations to the Wilson League of Nations, defeated Wilson's attempt to deliver the Republic to a council of foreigners sitting at Geneva, Switzerland. Senator Hitchcock was President Wilson's spokesman in the Senate for the League. Does the American public want Hitchcock running the Foreign Relations committee in the next Congress and still trying to "put over" the League of Nations?

START CAMPAIGN FOR A $25,000 DOG HOME

Indianapolis Humane Society Will Provide For Canines Who are Without Masters

"STRAYS" PICKED UP DAILY

Indianapolis, Oct. 25—"Every dog has his day," and this was the day for the Indianapolis dogs.

The Humane society started a campaign for $25,000 which will be used to erect a shelter for homeless canine.

More than 500 "strays" have been placed in homes since Jan. 1, according to the records of the society and more applications are on hand now than can be filled.

At Greensburg, Ind., Joseph Alexander has a dog which once belonged to Barney Oldfield the automobile racer. "Barney" as the dog is known was gathered in by members of the city dog pound and later turned over to Alexander who claims that "Barney" could not be purchased by any one or for any amount of money.

Many other dogs are in the same position as "Barney" and it is the intention of the society to place many more in homes.

The campaign for funds will continue until Nov. 7.

Tong, a civil engineering graduate of Purdue University, class of 1918, who is now Technical Attache of the Chinese Embassy in London. His duties require extensive traveling in England and on the Continent. He has been China's official delegate to many important conferences. Recently some wooden water pipes on Oxford street near the Chinese Embassy were excavated and were replaced with iron pipes. The official records show that the wooden pipes were in several centuries. Mr. Tong witnessed the excavations and states that he expects to send a section of the wooden pipe to Purdue for exhibition.

BEET PULP GOOD FOR LAMBS

Value Demonstrated in Recent Experiment Conducted by Nebraska Agricultural College.

The value of dried beet pulp for lamb feeding has been demonstrated in a recent experiment conducted by the Nebraska Agricultural college. The most profit was made on lambs fed a ration including alfalfa, dried pulp, cottonseed cake and silage. This ration proved superior to standard rations such as alfalfa and corn or alfalfa, cottonseed cake and corn.

At prevailing prices for feeds the lambs fed for 100 days on the alfalfa, dried pulp, cottonseed cake and corn silage ration made a profit of $3.80 per lamb as compared with a profit of $2.40 per lamb on those fed alfalfa, corn and cottonseed cake. About the same profit was made on another lot fed alfalfa dried pulp for 60 days and corn for 40 days.

WOMAN'S FEDERATION HOLDS ANNUAL MEET

State Federation of Clubs Open 31st
Annual Convention—Important
Problems

TO CHANGE CONVENTION TIME

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 26—The thirty-first annual convention of the Indiana Federation of Women's clubs opened here today.

The first convention of the Indiana Union of Literary clubs which afterwards merged into the present organization held its first convention at Richmond in 1890.

One of the most important questions before the convention will be the subject of changing the time for the convention. The recommendations will be that the annual convention be held in the spring probably May, instead of the fall. This was the custom of the Literary clubs, thus allowing women to make use of their local programs for the following year.

The activities of this year began with a conference luncheon which was presided over by the Chairman of the convention, Mrs. David Ross, Indianapolis. Following this the council held a meeting at which the chief topics to be considered was "the reorganization of the General Federation of Women's clubs" and "Shall Indiana have a Spring convention?"

Every women member of the club and every district president of the women's clubs will have an opportunity to discuss the plans for the spring meeting. This will be in charge of Mrs. Rimpler, president of the Indiana Federation.

SHIFTIEST FIELD RUNNER IN GAME

"BO" McMILLAN

Here's "Bo" McMillan, who, according to Walter Camp, is the shiftest field runner that has ever been seen on the American Gridiron.

Centre meets DePauw at Washington Park in Indianapolis November 6th. DePauw beat Centre two years ago but were taken to camp in Louisville last year. Although Centre has three all-American men on her line up, DePauw expects to give them a hard battle.

Centre played Transylvania at Danville, Kentucky two weeks ago and they played Harvard this Saturday. In order to get a line on the ability of the famous McMillan, Harvard sent five scouts down to Danville to see McMillan play. Instead of having McMillan on the gridiron, they had a man dressed up like McMillan, whom they all cheered. The Pseudo McMillan got his stuff over well enough to fool the Harvard scouts. Meanwhile McMillan was up in Boston seeing Harvard play, absolutely unbeknownst to the Harvard coach. The DePauw Alumni Board have set aside November 6th as DePauw Day. Special trains and interurbans will run from all parts of the state.

DEAR OLD PETE:

Winston-Salem, N. C.
Friday p. m.

Just wound up the one swellest day of my life! Since early this morning, when I got an invitation to visit R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. factories, I've been in the midst of millions of Camel cigarettes.

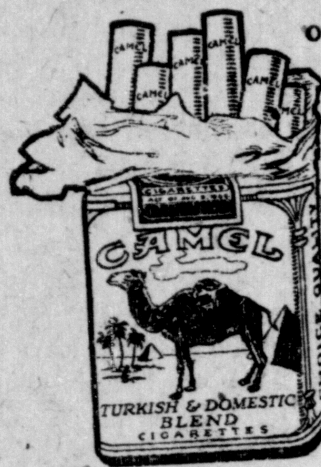

Man—the happiest idea you or I ever had as to the size of this Reynolds enterprise, or the number of Camels manufactured daily, is simply piker-stuff! Wipe off the slate and start fresh! Why—Pete, it seemed to me like a couple of those cigarette-making machines could keep half the nation smoking Camels steadily—BUT—honest to goodness, there are hundreds of these machines batting out Camels at the rate of 27,000 an hour—EACH!

Pete, you wouldn't have to consult a guide book to know you were in the Camel factories! The atmosphere is charged with that wonderful aroma you get when you open up a deck of Camels! And, you know, old elephant—you've had a trunk full!

As the Camels dropped into the containers I figured the delight each one would supply! And, how Camels mellow, mild body would hit the right spot and how Camels refreshing flavor would cheer up some smoker's jaded appetite! And, each Camel free from any unpleasant cigarettey aftertaste or unpleasant cigarettey odor! And—

Pete—I'll have to lay off and light another Camel! Write you some more soon.

Yours joyously

FISHERS DEMAND BIG SUPPLY OF SMALL BASS

State Hatcheries Will Convert One Place Into Bass Propagating
Alone to Supply Demand

ADULT FISH ARE WANTED

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 26—The demand for small-mouth bass for stocking streams and lakes in Indiana was so persistent this season that the state department of conservation has decided to convert one of the four hatcheries into propagating this species alone, according to announcement today. Bass Lake hatchery was selected owing to springs which feed the ponds making the water ideal for this species. Heretofore this hatchery only operated four ponds. Next season there will be seven ponds, and George Berg, superintendent of hatcheries, is now engaged in making the additional extensions.

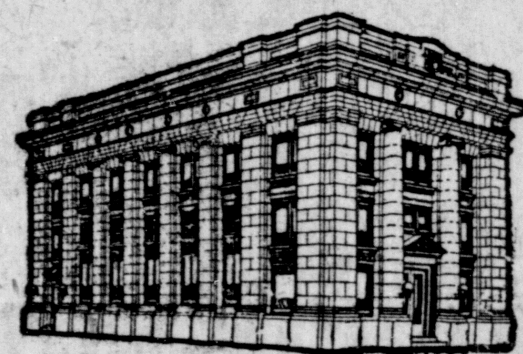

In order there be sufficient breeders to more than double the fish crop at Bass Lake next season, Richard Lieber, director of conservation in Indiana, and George N. Mannfeld, superintendent of the division of fish and game, have appealed to citizens of the state to catch adult fish for the hatcheries. Fish taken at this season of the year become acclimated and make better breeders by spring, they aver. The department wants only adult bass taken in a lawful way—that is caught with hook and line. Persons interested in better fishing for Indiana waters are willing to take them this way, for each additional adult bass sent to the hatchery means several thousand more fingerlings for restocking purposes next year. Bass breeders are also desired for the Riverside hatchery. Already three citizens, Gustav W. T. Meyer, B. A. Sunderland and Fred Ehlers, all of Indianapolis, have donated bass breeders to Riverside this month.

FARM ANIMALS

CLEAN PENS ARE IMPORTANT

Development and Perpetuation of Roundworms Is Fostered by Manure-Covered Lots.

Investigations reported in a recent technical publication of the bureau of animal industry, United States department of agriculture, disclosed additional evidence of the importance of keeping young pigs in clean pens that have not been contaminated by other swine.

A roundworm of pigs, known as Ascaris suum, is held responsible not only for many deaths among swine, but for a large proportion of the runts among these animals. Development and perpetuation of the roundworms is fostered by badly drained and manure-covered hog lots, which are on this account dangerous to young pigs and not good for pigs of any age.

Eggs of the parasite may remain alive in soil for five years and even longer. Places occupied by pigs harboring the adult worms in their intestines will become badly infested with the eggs. Pigs farrowed and kept in such places are certain to pick up many of these eggs, and even suckling pigs are liable to swallow eggs present in dirt adhering to the teats of the sow.

Investigations by the bureau have proved that after the eggs have been swallowed and have hatched in the intestine the young worms do not immediately settle down, but penetrate the wall of the intestine and travel to the liver and the lungs. From the lungs they crawl up the windpipe and then down the esophagus and return to the intestine. Only after they have passed through the lungs do they establish themselves in the intestine and grow to maturity.

In passing through the lungs the young worms cause more or less damage to these organs. Pneumonia may result and the animal may die about a week or ten days after infection. Symptoms of this pneumonia among pigs are commonly known as "thumps." Not all cases of "thumps" come from this source, but the worms are frequently the cause. Young pigs are more susceptible than older pigs to infection, and are also more likely to suffer severely from migration of the young worms through the lungs.

There is no treatment for the lung stage of the parasite. If the pig survives he may later be treated with worm remedies to remove the worms from the intestine. In such cases, however, it commonly happens that the animal has been so seriously injured through the lungs that even after their expulsion from the intestine the pig is unable to make up for the setback he has received, although he does better than if allowed to go untreated.

ERADICATE CROP OF QUACK GRASS

Courage, Determination and Attention to Detail Make the Outcome Certain.

ROTATION FOR LARGE AREAS

Land Should Be Plowed in Fall and Double-Disked at Once, Lengthwise of Furrows—Some Hand Work May Be Necessary.

Quack grass can be killed out completely without losing a crop, says A. C. Army, assistant agriculturist at the Minnesota College of Agriculture. To secure such a result, however, the crops grown must be such as to admit of a thorough clean-up of the fields every two or three years. Courage to do the work, a determination to win, and attention to detail make the outcome certain.

For the Small Spot.

For spots not more than three or four rods square, three plans may be followed:

1. Cut the quack grass as close to the ground as practicable, cover the spots and the ground two or three feet beyond them in all directions, with tar paper, lapping the paper about four inches and weighting it down with stones or soil. Leave the paper on eight or ten weeks. This method is most effective when started from May 1 to August 1.

2. Keep the spots thoroughly cultivated or hoed up to the latter part of May, and then plant corn or late cabbage. Keep these plots clean of quack grass.

3. Apply sodium arsenate, eight pounds dissolved in 20 gallons of water, to each square rod of infested soil. This will kill the quack grass and all other plants. This treatment leaves the soil sterile for some time afterward. Sodium arsenate is a deadly poison and the greatest care should be observed in its use.

For the Larger Area.

For larger areas a rotation must be used that gives chance for an exceedingly thorough clean-up often enough to keep the quack grass from recovering.

A four-year rotation of grain, clover, corn and corn meets this demand. In following such a rotation, the area should be plowed as early as possible in the fall, five or six inches deep, and should be double-disked at once.

Disking Corn Stubble to Kill Out Quack Grass.

lengthwise the furrows. If the quack grass shows growth afterward the diskings should be continued through the fall. In the spring, diskings or cultivation should be continued often enough to keep the quack grass from showing green above the ground until corn-planting time. Usually the re-plowing of the field just before the planting of the corn should be resorted to. Corn should be checked and cultivated often enough to keep it clean. Hand work may be necessary to get all the quack grass out of the hills. As soon as the corn crop is off in the fall, the land should be plowed and manured. In the spring again diskings should be resorted to and should be kept up as during the previous year. In the third year grain and clover should be sown. In the fourth year the clover crop should be cut in the latter part of June, then the ground should be plowed immediately, three or four inches deep, and double-disked at once and often enough to keep the quack grass out until August 15. The ground should then be re-plowed five or six inches deep and the diskings continued through the fall. Corn should be planted the next year again.

A 40-acre field divided into four equal parts, two of which are in corn, one in grain and the other in clover, can be handled in this way by one man with one team.

Quack grass cannot stand up against this kind of treatment.

CUTTING ALFALFA CROP ONCE

Aftermath Furnishes Pasture for Live Stock at Time When It Is Usually Needed.

When the alfalfa crop is cut but once, that cutting is best made when most of the seed is in the hard dough stage. Hay cut at this stage of maturity has practically the same feeding value as that cut earlier, according to analyses made at the Iowa experiment station. After the one cutting is secured, the aftermath furnishes pasture at a time when it is usually most needed.

TO SHOW TEN EAR CORN SAMPLES AT THE SHOW

To Be Held in Connection With International Livestock Exposition
At Chicago November 27

FORMERLY HAD TWENTY EARS

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 26.—Ten ear instead of 20 ear samples of corn will be shown this year at the international Hay and Grain Show which will be held in connection with the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago November 27 to December 4 for the $10,000 premium list offered by the Chicago Board of Trade. This action will meet with the hearty approval of the hundreds of exhibitors and will mean a much larger list of entrants because the growers know that it is much easier to pick a 10 ear sample than one for 20 ears, and show corn equally as good or better than that of the 20 ear samples. The ten ear samples were recognized by all the corn states at the state meeting in September as being more satisfactory.

In addition to this change, a class also has been provided for single ear samples of corn with suitable premiums. This class was not provided last year until time for the show, but even then there were more than 250 entrants. In the 20 ear samples shown last year, there were 720 exhibitors and it is thought that this number will go to 1,000 or more with the change made in cutting the number to a 10 ear sample.

Classes for small grains and seeds for hay and forage crops which it was announced would be provided this year are arousing considerable interest not only in the Corn Belt, but in the Far West and East, and also in the South and in Canada. Suitable prizes will be given for field peas, soybeans, cow peas, and clover, alfalfa, timothy, alsike and similar seeds also will be in special classes this year, with several hundred dollars in prizes going to the growers of these products.
